SUMMER SCHOOL.

Opens in High School Building this Morning.

The second annual term of the Honolulu Summer School will begin at the High School this morning at 9 o'clock. All persons interested in this undertaking are invited to be present, regardless of whether they expect to enter upon any of the courses to be given. Minister Cooper will open the school with an address, after which Dr. Brown will speak briefly. Organization for work will then proceed. The first section will consist of those wishing to make preparation for the primary examinations, and the following daily program will be offered them at Fort Street School:

From 9 to 9:45, arithmetic, three classes; 9:45 to 10:30, grammar, two classes, language teaching; 10:30 to 11:15, geography, two classes, kindergarten songs, tonic sol-fa; 11:15 to 12, nature study, methods in number, methods in geography. Intermission. 1 to 1:45, course of study; 1:45 to 2:30, general pedagogy.

The second section will consist of those who wish to devote their time chiefly to method work. The following daily program will be offered them at the High School:

From 9 to 9:45, general pedagogy; 9:45 to 10:30, nature study, methods in number, tonic sol-fa; 10:30 to 11:15, course of study; 11:15 to 12, kindergarten songs, short hand. Intermission. 1 to 1:45, percentage, methods in geography; 1:45 to 2:30, algebra, geometry.

The general pedagogy courses are Dr. Brown's, and it is expected that they will be especially valuable; hence each section is given up entirely to this work in its own time.

It is not expected that any one person will undertake all the work possible under either of these programs, but that each will elect from the work offered his section such courses as may seem to him most profitable.

The number of persons who have come into town to attend the Summer School, and the number and class of instruction secured seem to promise that the second annual session will be more successful than the first.

"BUILT LIKE A WAT'CH."

Expert's Opinion Regarding the Sterling Wheel.

Prof. R. E. Carpenter is at the head of the department of experimental engineering at Cornell University, and is looked upon as the leading mechanical expert in the United States, being called upon to testify in innumerable cases where expert mechanical testimony is required.

A Sterling bicycle was sent to him a few weeks ago for a test as to its running qualities and mechanical details of construction. The following is his remark in regard to the wheel:

"The Sterling wheel arrived in good condition and represents, it seems to me, the highest grade of workmanship in that line. So far as perfection of mechanical details and finish is concerned, I can safely say I have not seen anything equal to it."

This is a remarkable testimonial to the construction of the 1897 Sterling. In the races last Saturday it was clearly demonstrated that the Sterling bicycle is built for speed as well as for road use. That it should be chosen for their mounts and purchased outright by two of the racing men, who have been on the track for the last few years, and have had a great deal of experience in different wheels, shows that it is more than an ordinary wheel.

That it is built for road use as well as for the track is shown plainly from the fact that one wheel was ridden over 34,000 miles last year, and only a few months ago one was ridden down the 74 steps of the west front of the Capitol at Washington, without breaking it in the least.

GETS A SWORD.

Captain Paul Smith's Services Recognized by the Boys.

Capt. Paul Smith, of Company A, N. G. H., was presented with a fine sword before the parade Monday morning by Carl Klemme, on behalf of the members of the company. The presentation was made while the troops were drawn up in line in the Drill Shed, and Company A presented arms while Carl Klemme made a short complimentary speech.

The presentation of the sword was the outcome of a little talk on the part of the members of Company A, who recognize what Captain Smith has done for the boys and the company, his nearly four years of faithful service and his popularity as commander.

The sword is a handsome piece of work, the best that could be obtained at the Coast. Upon the handle is the inscription: "Presented to Capt. Paul Smith by the boys of Co. A, N. G. H."

Police Court Notes.

The celebration of the Glorious Fourth and its attendant difficulties showed up well in the Police Court yesterday morning. Seventeen cases of drunkenness each paid the usual fine of $2 and costs into the treasury. Then there were several cases of assault and battery postponed until a later date. The case of the bluejacket for assault and battery on a police officer Monday night was postponed until this morning.

Pikolili was fined $4 and costs for assault and battery. Four natives plead guilty to the charge of gambling and were fined $4 and costs each.

E. Doyle and M. Hewill were fined $2 and costs on the charge of common nuisance. It seems that they waxed too liberal with Chinese bombs Saturday night.

Woman's Board.

A meeting of the Woman's Board was held in Central Union Church yesterday afternoon. Quite a number of ladies were present, among them being several strangers from the States.

Mrs. Thrum read a short paper, a biography of Martha A. King, of the Marsoban Mission, Western Turkey.

Mrs. Pratt spoke on the Ashley work in North Carolina, outlining the system carried out.

Several of the strangers gave short talks and the meeting adjourned.

Trouble Aboard C. B. Kenny.

There was trouble aboard the C. B. Kenny yesterday afternoon. The mate and one of the sailors got into a slight altercation. Hot words followed, and the mate, a much smaller man than the sailor, picked up a club and knocked the latter down. He was arrested, but was released later on bail. The case will probably come up in the Police Court today.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief."
